Petra Ford, P.T., CCRT graduated from UMDNJ School of Health Related Professions in 1998 and has worked with a varied caseload including pediatric through geriatric clients with a large variety of diagnoses. Her areas of expertise include in-patient rehabilitation, orthopedics and neurology. With a strong background in physical fitness and training, Petra raced bicycles at the professional level. Currently, she is an avid runner and practices yoga. She became a fully certified Canine Rehabilitation Therapist (CCRT) to combine her passions: dogs, fitness, and physical therapy. Petra's black Labrador Retriever, Tyler, has the distinction of being the 2008 and 2009 National Obedience Champion and placing second in the 2010 World Obedience Championship at Crufts. - Petra will tailor the session specifically for you. For example, she can:
- Stretch, massage and laser your performance dog to prevent injury & improve performance.
 - Evaluate your dog's (and/or puppy's) structure as it relates to function, teaching you how to strengthen areas of weakness to improve performance and prevent injury.
 - Teach you proper warm-ups and cool-downs tailored to your dog and his/her sport.
 - Develop a personalized conditioning program for your dog to optimize performance and prevent injury.
